WHY THE RICE STOPPED ROLLING

By F. J. Olcott.

Once upon a time this happened in the Land called Laos, in the wonder days when the earth was young.

Then the people were very beautiful, gentle and kind. The fruits of the trees were larger and sweeter than they are now. As for the rice, a single grain of it was so big that it made a full meal for a man. And what is more, no one had to plant or harvest the rice. When it was ripe, each grain rolled like a wheel straight into the granary. So at harvest time, grains of rice like thousands of wheels, were rolling about.

DEDICATION . . . .

When we buy a sack of flour, meal, a box of oats, we notice the name of the mill. The container does not bear the name of the original producer, the farmer. Although the mill deserves praise, the farmer should not be forgotten altogether. After all, the profit of the farmer is small in comparison to that of the miller.

If a school is well conducted, the praise goes to the faculty. This is well and they are deserving of the credit but why not delve deeper into the subject? The school board works industriously and worthily with little praise. The members are the original life-giving element to the school.

So in appreciation for the work done by the School Board of the Plainview Independent School District, we, the Staff of the 1939 Plain View wish to pay tribute to:

E. G. ALEXANDER, President
T. O. COLLIER
GLENN SMITH
MRS. ELLIS CARTER
MRS. F. E. CAVE
C. A. SHOOK
W. B. DAVENPORT
GUY BOUNDS, Secretary

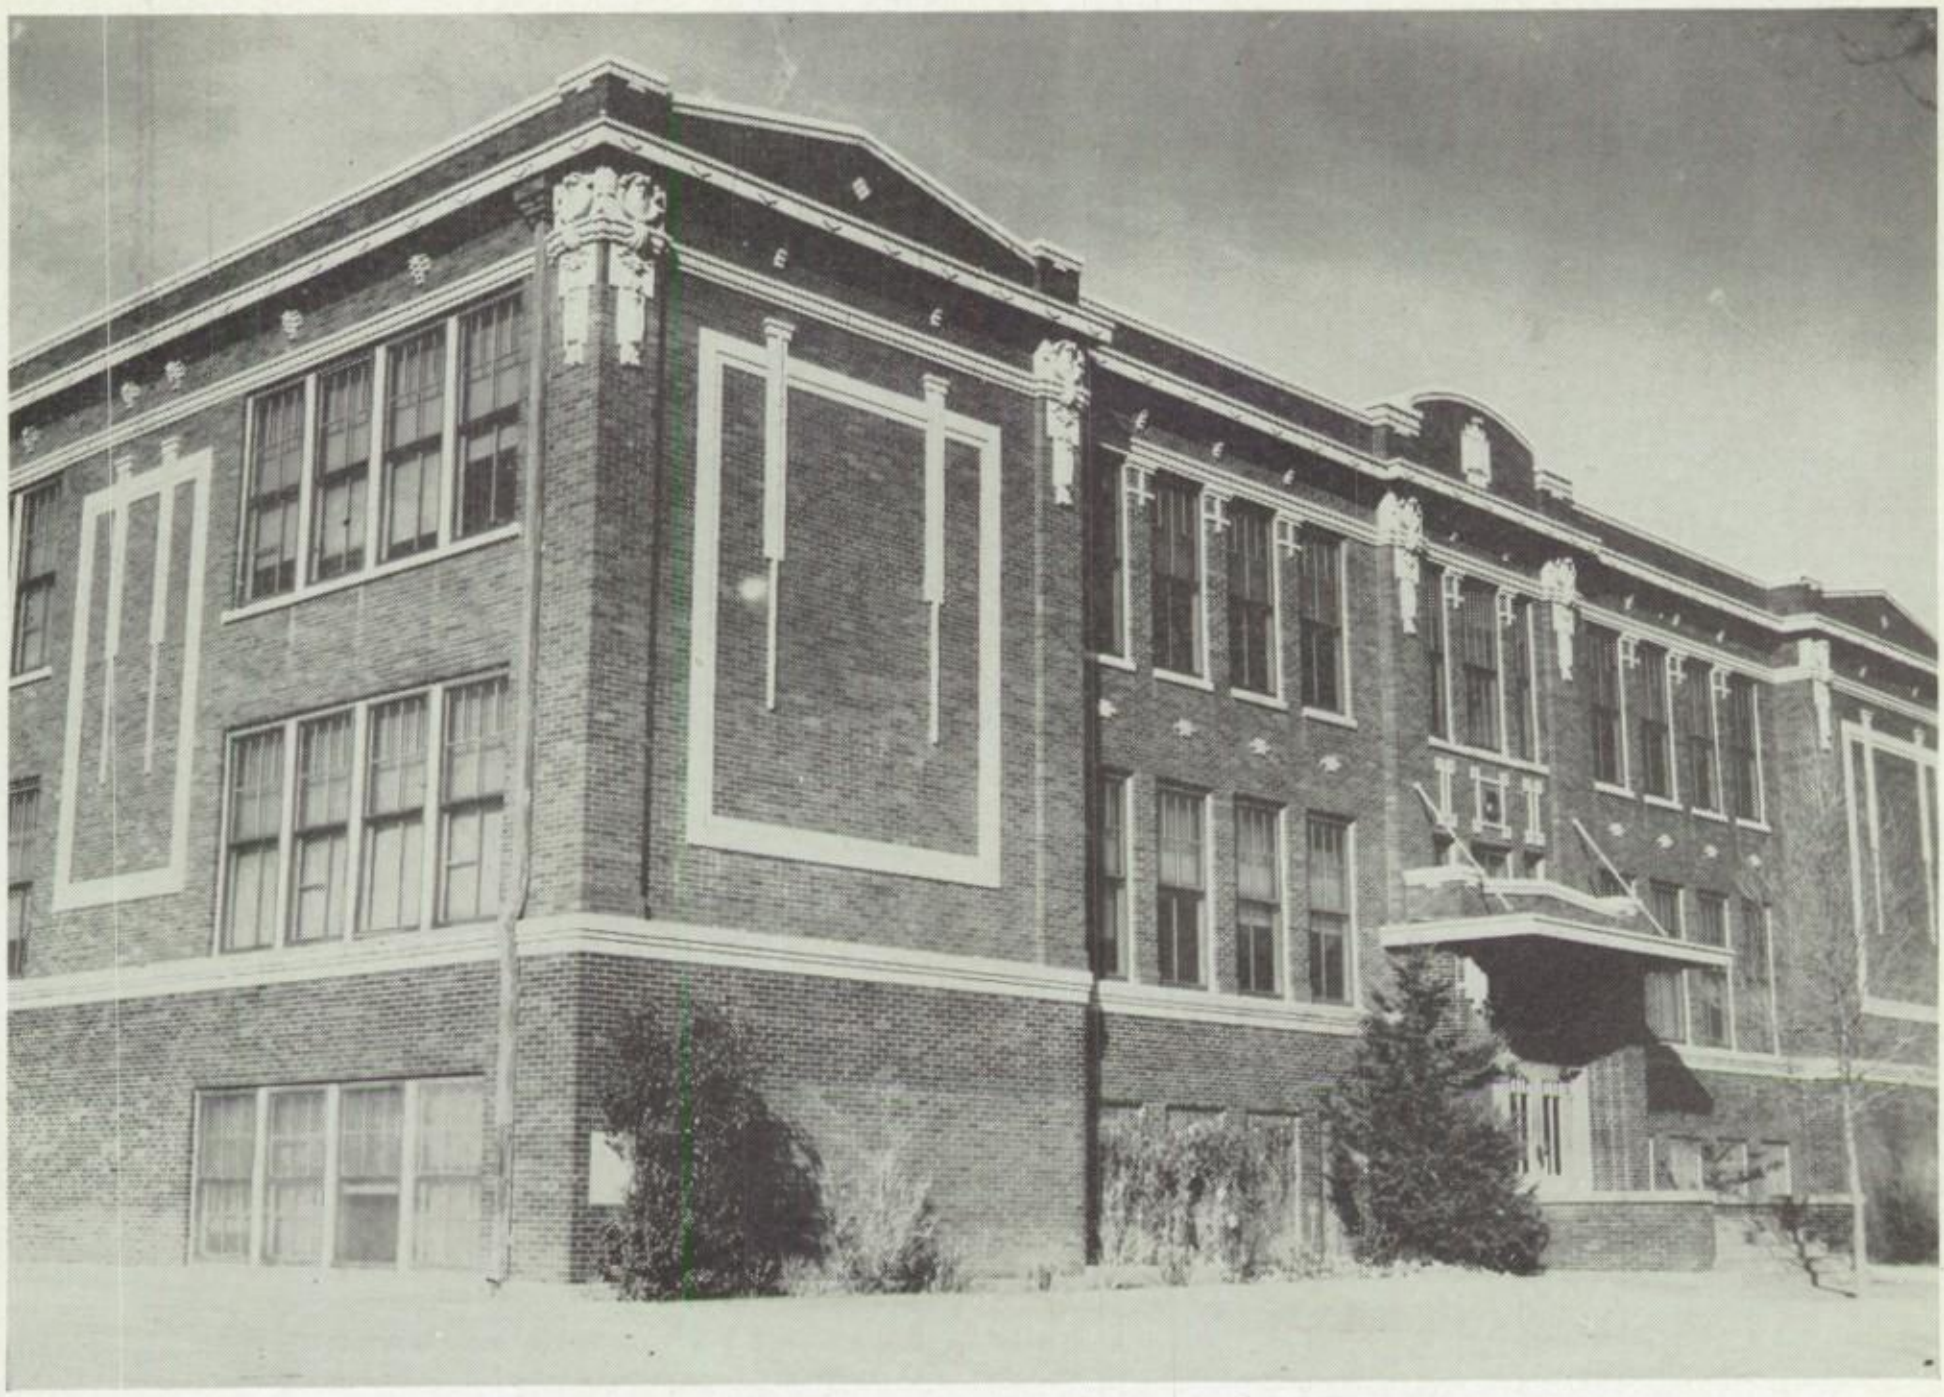
and dedicate to them this Yearbook.

EDITORS' NOTE . . . .

The farmer is the backbone of the country. In the tilling of the soil he is the source of many principal necessities. When he sows the seed in the earth, some fall on fertile soil, others on infertile ground. After a period of cultivation the harvest comes and the toll of the yield is taken. It is then transported to mills to be further processed.

The school follows the same principle. The seed of education is sown in the young students—some take the seed, others do not. After eleven years of cultivation comes the harvest and the toll of the yield is taken. Then the students are sent to college for further processing.

In this yearbook, we have tried to give the highlights of some of the cultivation and take the toll of the yield. We pass this on to you.



PLAINVIEW HIGH

The name that thrills with every sound is Plainview High, Our
Plainview High.
We'll shout its praises round and round, Plainview High, Our
Plainview High.
We'll fight for honors on the field,
We'll force our strongest foes to yield.
While blazing on our warrior's
shield is Plainview High,
Our Plainview High.

To thee we give our sacred trust,
Plainview High, Our Plainview High.
Our banner ne'er must touch the dust. Plainview High, Our
Plainview High.
With courage bold we hoist to view our Scarlet Red and Navy Blue.
To show the world we are proud of you, Plainview High, Our
Plainview High.

O. J. LAAS, B. S., M. A.
Superintendent

TO THE STUDENTS:

Education is a process whereby we "fit ourselves to comprehend and appropriate" the whole spiritual inheritance of the race. It is the process through which we gain the "ability to perceive and the capacity to enjoy" that which is excellent. It is a process which enables us to harness and use the forces of nature for our safety, comfort and convenience.

It gives us the power to adjust ourselves to our environment and to meet better the situations that we have to face. It gives us the power to project ourselves into the environment of our adversaries and thus enables us to widen our understanding and sympathy and toleration. It is the building of manhood and womanhood and the development of the power to distinguish eternal from temporal values and the passion for service and leadership.

It is the sowing and nurturing of the seed of love for art, music, literature and for all the beautiful and inspiring and noble achievement of mankind. It is the "steady growth of the soul into truer and closer relationship with the Divine Soul—the Supreme Educator, the Master of us all."

Sincerely,

O. J. LAAS, Superintendent.

R. W. DAVIDSON, B. A., M. A.

TO THE GRADUATING CLASS OF 1939:

May I take this occasion to express my faith in you? A noted speaker recently said that the youth of today are the best the world has ever produced. They are larger and healthier than the last generation. They are better informed on world affairs, and have traveled more. You hear more and better music than our forefathers. You attend school more and have better schools.

Any member of this class having a worthy ambition can find opportunity to carry out that desire. May you never neglect this great heritage with its possibilities and opportunities.

Yours sincerely,

R. W. DAVIDSON, Principal.

Well! One year the rice crop was larger than usual, and the grains of an immense size. Now there was a widow who said to her daughter:

"Our granary is too small. We must pull it down and build a big one."

CLASS WILL

Know all men by these presents, that we, the seniors of Plainview High School being in good health, of sound and disposing mind and memory, do make and publish this, our last will and testament.

Miller Needham, who has quite an estate leaves his universal popularity, his football prowess and his manly beauty to anyone who possesses the ability and assets.

Virginia Hall bequeaths her "come hither" look to Janet Green.

Norma Wood leaves her perpetual silence to Mary Earle Alexander, who certainly can use it!

Charles Martin leaves his dare-devil driving to Joyce Stinnett (Do you prefer roses or lilies, Joyce?).

Eula Mae Sheppard bequeathes her peroxide to Elizabeth Bullock.

Raymond Piller wills his title of campus fashion plate and his wardrobe to Dwight Nance.

Beulah Faye McDaniel wills her knitting and dimples to Mary Myrtle Knoohuizen.

Ted Kirk leaves his daily trips to the office to Crofford Hefflefinger, under the impression that Crofford will carry on.

Catherine Tatum is too stingy to leave her brains to any junior—some of them could certainly use them.

Clay Johnson wills his physique, his muscles and his vaccination scars to Leon Saul.

Dorothy Looper benevolently bequeathes her extra inches to Miss LaRue.

Melba and Maxine leave their too, too, beautiful friendship as a symbol of————————what?

Louise Degge Caskey takes her husband with her—Thank you!

Bushrod Thompson donates his "Life" to the library. Let's hope he can get along without it.

Virginia Hall, Edna Lois Myers, Betty Jo Blocksom and Madge Boyd leave their title of "Four Fluttering Females" to Marjorie Sue Morehead, Joan Hinds, Mary Earl Alexander and Jean Owens.

Faola Patton leaves her studies in P. H. S. to herself; she expects to take them up again next year.

The Girls Physical Education Class leaves those blue rompers to the coming generation, if they last that long!

Douglas Coker would will that "one yard more" drive power to Winston Barry, but he thinks "Red" already has it.

Sorry, Juniors, but Tom Gardner has nothing you would want.

Jean Dement leaves her innocent and modest ways to Billie Louise Whitesides.

Betty Cherry wills her possession of that certain thing to Agatha Heavin.

Richard Sherley doesn't dislike any junior enough to will him the editorship of the annual.

E. B. Mitchell does not think any junior has worked hard enough to deserve his title of "Most Outstanding Senior."

Jeepers, Creepers—

Frances Beth Hampton leaves her peepers to anyone who's smart enough to use them, she certainly is.

Mary Louise Hooper leaves her temper to Billie Ruth Moore—Oh! Oh! dodge that book, Juniors. . . .

Ruth Connelly leaves her ambitions of scholastic attainment to (can't you guess?)—Bonnie Faye Goodrich.

As we go to press, the seniors are wondering if they will have to leave Billy Lewis behind.

Fred Shelton bequeathes his curly locks to Mr. Underwood, but he will keep his big baby blue eyes.

Miss Plummer would like to leave the sponsoring of the annual to some one—Whom?

Mrs. Horton would like to leave the Junior Class to someone but it's like chewing gum, it sticks forever.

Mr. Mills and his debate class leave the Retail Sales Tax problem to Governor O'Daniel. "Let him figure it out, they couldn't!"

Mr. Richardson wills the ability to run the senior class to Mr. Richardson—Conceited! ! ! !

To Mr. Davidson, we leave the juniors, the sophomores, and the freshmen—God help him!

To the juniors we leave dear old P. H. S. and all our rights; we hope they will carry the torch of enlightenment and achievement as high as we did.

This we make and publish our last will, hereunto, signing, and subscribing our names, this 12th day of May, of the year 1939 in the presence of the student body.—The Senior Class of 1939.

So they pulled it down and began to build, but it was slow work. The rice was ripe before the granary was ready.

"Oh look! look!" cried the daughter. "The rice is coming!"

CLASS PROPHECY

As I was walking down Broadway in Plainview one Saturday, guess whom I ran into?—Old Miller Needham, straw hat and corncob pipe. He told me he was going to Dr. P. C. Anders to get a little mental, physical, and bottled stimulants. Miller had had an attack of appoplexy, and it was all because wife Virginia Hall wanted air conditioning in their home, a specially made lavender Deusenburg, a summer wardrobe, and a trip to Europe.

I dashed in the store for a pair of hose and was pleasantly surprised when Betty Jo Blocksom waited on me. She looked very matronly, and asked me if I had heard the latest. "No, What?" I asked. "After a twenty-year courtship, Raymond Piller and Frances Beth Hampton were married. And do you know, I'm beginning to be worried about Dorothy Looper. She's been a bridesmaid at every wedding the last 18 years, and hasn't caught one of her own yet. Her only comfort is that after Edna Lois Myers married, she and her husband had so many fights they had to part, so maybe Dorothy isn't so bad off after all."

Going on down the street, I saw a modest little sign "Hemstitching done cheap," and there was Betty Cherry, bespectacled but singing cheerily at her work. She gave up a career just to be near her mother.

Clay Johnson, they say, just had the satisfaction of turning down a teacher who asked him for a loan. He said, quote: "I ain't givin, nuttin away. D'ey didn't give me any breaks so why should I! Gee whizz!" unquote.

A big sign on the Herald window announced "Famous lecturer on tour—Madge Boyd—former home-town girl. Her assistant, Miss Catherine Tatum, also a Plainview girl (Class of '39) furnishes appropriate music for the lecture on Africa."

I had an inspiration and visited old P. H. S. to see how many schoolmates were spending "the best years of their life" working there. Ruth Joan Connelly was imposing as a sourpuss Latin teacher and fast becoming soured on the world. Bored looking Professor Garrett was instructing equally bored looking pupils in the rudiments of math which he himself neglected to learn.

E. B. Mitchell, prominent business man, is campaign manager for Hubert Farris, who is running for Senator.

Tom Gardner recently returned to give an exhibition of stunt-flying. You remember, no doubt, the crack (up) mail pilot who put Plainview on the map.

Avon Carter, distinguished metropolitan tenor is to appear in Boston next Tuesday with the Metropolitan orchestra under the direction of Eugene Blair. Eugene Ragland trails along to manage their business affairs and keep Avon from smoking too much.

A late book from the pen of Jean Johnson, popular novelist, will be reviewed by Miss Dorothy Joe Douglas, President of the Ladies Aid Society.

Another noted Plainviewite is Ray Schneider, a campaigner and part-time evangelist, who will give a talk on why we should be teetotalors.

I went up to the Knit Shoppe for a few moments of relaxation and gossip and there was Freddie Shelton, contentedly showing the ladies the "knewest knit" styles.

Certainly I was surprised to see Vivian Rook and Grace Jewell Poage operating a cosy Junior League Tearoom. Margie England was busy telling fortunes with tea-leaves. I went in and asked to have her autograph to send to Sam Martin, an eccentric collector of eccentric people's autographs.

Just as I went out the door, Frances Wilmeth dashed by me, looking "just as young as she ever did." She was attempting to catch a bus driven by that simply devastating Barney Thames.

No sooner had I recovered my breath from that female whirlwind when I saw Lila Mae and Ottie Guin blissfully navigating down the street, at last united after Ottie had been to war.

It was amazing how our "city with a view" had changed since my girlhood days. No longer were there idlers in the streets, for our progressive mayor, Richard Sherley, had done away with that by putting them in jail where they could play chess all day long. President of the J. B. C. S. (Jailbird's Chess Society) was Dwight Nance (and we had such hopes for him.)

Ah, well, this is just a pretty picture of 20 years hence. Some people say I'm mystic, others psychic, and still others, dopey. But what's the difference as long as everyone's happy?"

"In my opinion, we have had a successful season this year. I have grown to know and love the traditions of Plainview High, a large part of which the Bulldogs of 1938 established. With these traditions to fight for and a season to come, I and the Bulldogs of 1939 shall endeavor to carry out and build on these traditions."

MICKEY POOL JEROME VANNOY

"We have enjoyed working with the boys who chose to try their luck with us on the gridiron this year. They are a bunch of fine-spirited fellows and have carried the Plainview High School banner faithfully through every game. We had a good season this year and we are looking forward to an even better one next year."

Bulldogs of 1938

Review of Plainview's 1938 Football Season

Sept. 9. Plainview vs. Kerrville. The Bulldogs started the season off with a bang with a 7 to 6 win over the Antlers from Kerrville after a hard fought battle.

Sept. 16. Plainview vs. Bowie High, El Paso. The Bulldogs playing heads-up football against the smart Mexican team, defeated them by an outstanding score of 26 to 0.

Sept. 23. Plainview vs. Lamesa: The first conference game of the season against a new entry into District 1 ranks. Lamesa had a 6 point lead at the end of the first quarter. The Bulldogs, however, came back fighting to win 26 to 6.

Sept. 30. Plainview vs. Hollis, Okla. The Bulldogs at the end of the first half were behind 7 to 0 due to a blocked kick close to the goal line. In the last half, however, the Bulldogs scored on a sixty-yard jaunt by Graham. But the game ended: Hollis 7, Plainview 6.

Oct. 7. Plainview vs. Borger. The Plainview Bulldogs won their second conference game of the season by a 24 to 7 score. This game was the originator of the Plainview "iron men eleven;" the starting line-up playing the whole 60 minutes.

Oct. 14. Plainview vs. Clovis, New Mex. The Bulldogs, out for revenge for a 19 to 0 loss last season, romped playfully through the Clovis team to the tune of a 60 to 0 score. The highest score probably ever made by a Plainview eleven.

Oct. 28. Plainview vs. Lubbock. This was the hardest fought game of the season. The Lubbock powerhouse, time after time, marched toward Plainview's goal line to within a few yards or feet of it, only to be thrown back by a fighting, valiant, Plainview eleven.

Neither team scored for three and a half quarters and only in the waning moments of the game did the weak but fighting Plainview team yield to the foe. The game ended: Lubbock, 6; Plainview, 0.

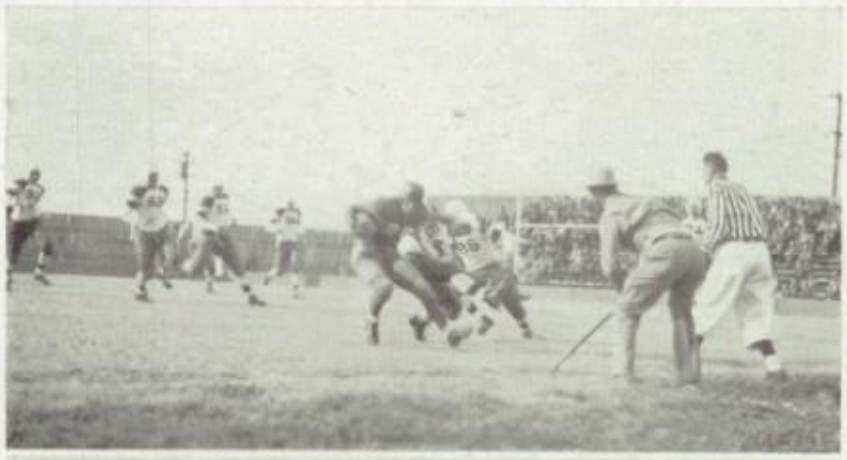
Nov. 14. Plainview vs. Amarillo. This game was the highlight of the season, although the Plainview team was riddled by injuries. The Bulldogs with a smooth working offense and a tight defense scored on Amarillo on Butler Field for the first time in several years. The Bulldogs held their 7 point lead until the last quarter when the score was tied 7 to 7. The waning minutes, with Plainview still leading on penetrations, saw the downing of a Bulldog team that never quit fighting. The game ended: Amarillo, 14; Plainview, 7.

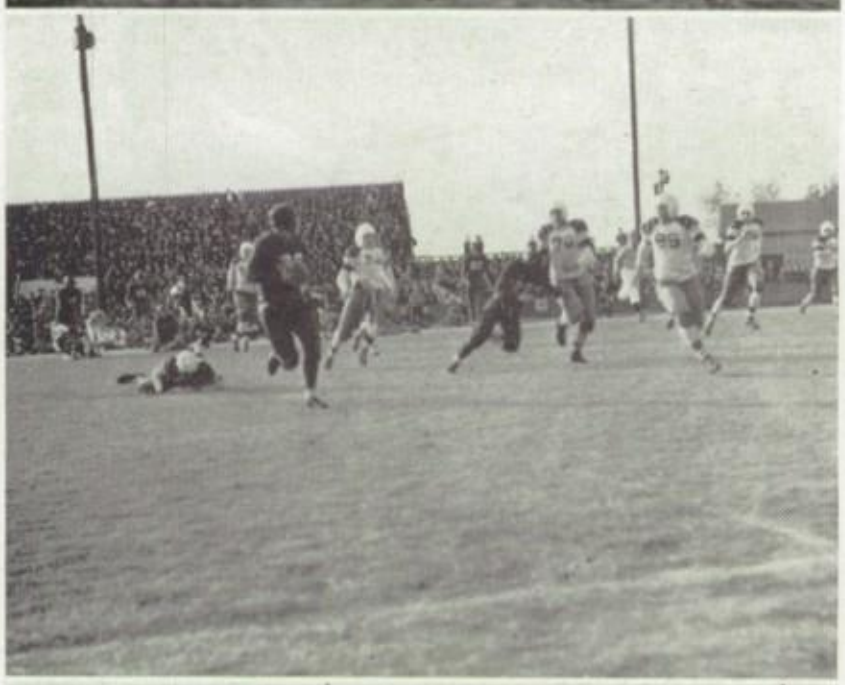
Nov. 21. Plainview vs. Pampa. This was the only game of the season that even marked Plainview's fine record. A badly rattled Plainview eleven bowed to the Pampa greenshirts 21 to 6.

This ended the official season, but Plainview played a post-season game with a fine team from Biloxi, Miss., Dec. 30. This was the first game of this kind in the history of Plainview.

The Bulldogs held the upper edge all during the game but only late in the third quarter was Plainview able to score on the Biloxi team. The game ended: Plainview, 7; Biloxi, 0.

Thus ended one of the most successful and outstanding football seasons that Plainview High School has seen for several years.





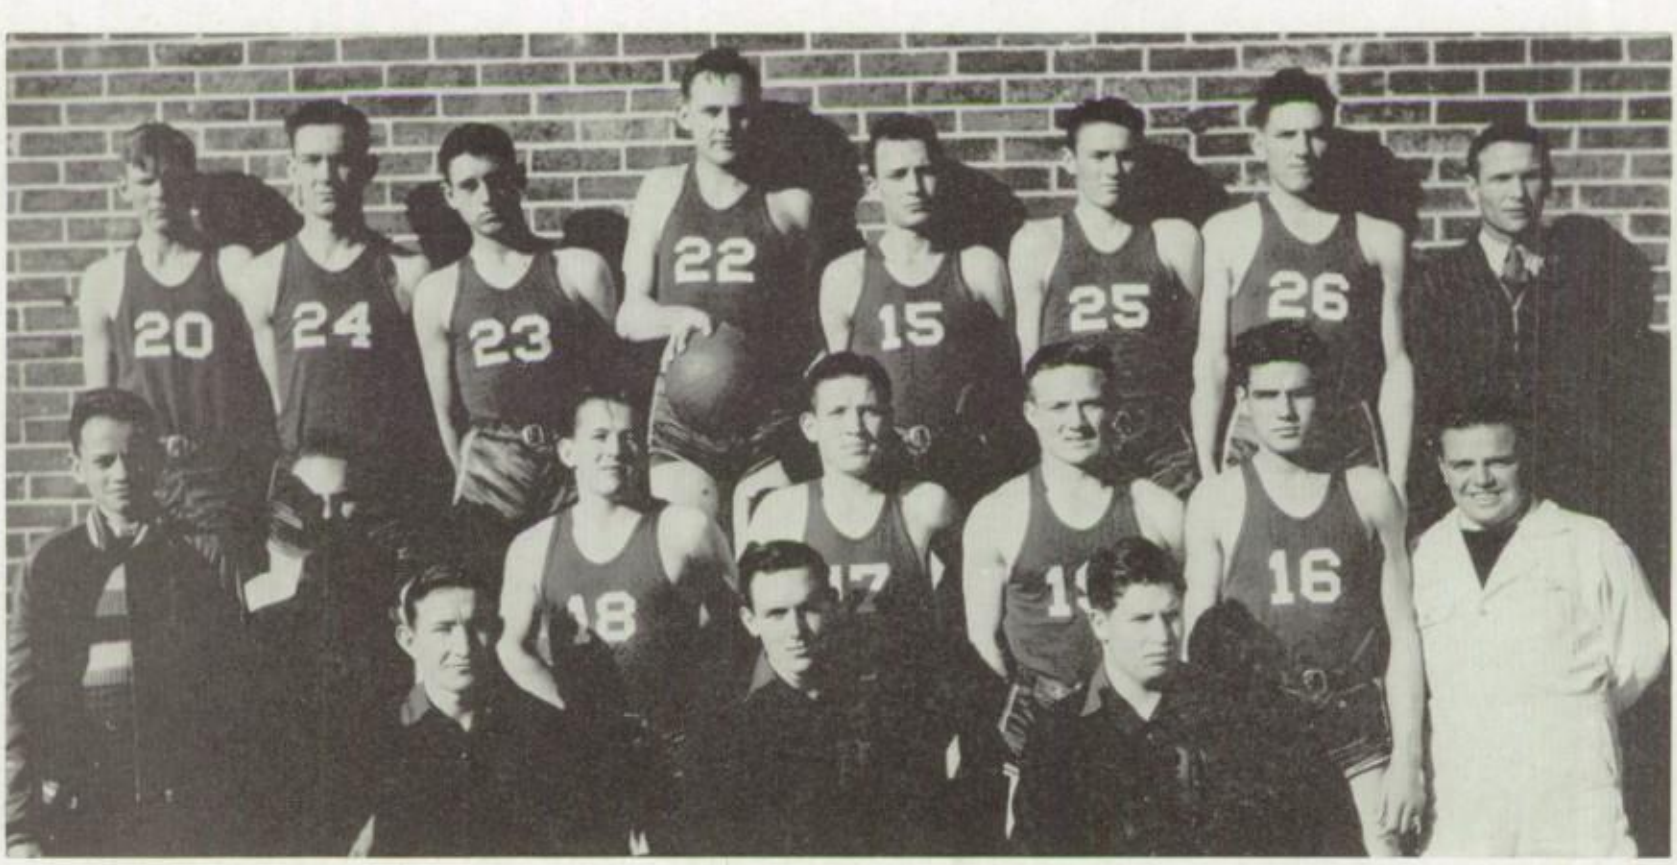
BASKETBALL

The Bulldogs got off to a bad start in the season, but were going strong at the end of the season. The Bulldogs took top honor at the Olton Tournament this year.

The highlight of the season was the game against the Pampa Harvesters who had downed the Bulldogs in a preceding game by a substantial score. The Bulldogs, out for revenge, although handicapped to some extent, downed the Harvesters 26 to 22.

The Bulldogs after a bad start in the Big Five Conference games finished fourth in the Conference and were going strong at the last. This was due to a victory over Lubbock and the upset over the Pampa Harvesters.

The Bulldogs were eliminated in the district tourney by Lockney but still can be said to have had a successful season.



TOP ROW—Stambaugh, Buren Eslinger, Paschal Miller, Otie B. Guinn, Tommy King, Newlin Reddell, Carroll Brough, Coach Mickey Pool.

The Bulldog Dilemna

They're lining up—the signals crack
It's single wing with Graham back
Their cleats dig in, the line bends low,
Just thirty seconds left to go.
They're ready now to start the play,
The goal is ninety yards away.
Now Needham flips the ball, it lands
Squarely in Graham's outstretched hands.
The play is wide and to the right
The team is showing lots of fight.
He circles out, he's going wider
And now he laterals to Schneider.
Ray's cutting back, he flings to Barry
Who squirms on through the secondary.
On down the field he's making tracks,
The guards are cutting down the backs.
The safety man now blocks his route,
But Coker neatly takes him out.
He's in the clear, the huge crowd roars
As Barry races on and scores.
The whistle blows, the cheers have died.
The Plainview Bulldogs were offside.

"We shall never come again. We shall stay in the fields till we are wanted, and you must come to fetch us."

National Honor Society

The Plainview Chapter of the National Honor Society was established in September, 1937. The object of this chapter is to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote worthy leadership, and to encourage the development of character in pupils of Plainview High School.

The chief projects of this year's society are: To foster a scholarship fund for some needy and deserving student; to collect for the library current articles in the fields of art, history, science and literature; and to establish in the high school library a Directory of Colleges.

Plainview Pep Squad

The sixty-nine members of the Pep Squad began the season with a Pep Rally the night before the Kerrville game. They attended every home game in their new royal blue corduroy uniforms, and usually staged a rally before each game. On October 28 they rode the special train to Lubbock and on November 11, went by special buses to attend the game in Amarillo. Various formations were given between halves at most of the games. As a whole, the season proved the value of a uniformed pep squad to the school. The same system will be used next year.

Future Homemakers of Plainview

"Things we visualize today, we realize tomorrow."

CREED

I believe that the home is woman's natural environment. I believe that there is as much art in making a barren house into a glistening, comfortable home as there is in painting a picture or writing a poem.

I believe that there is dignity and beauty in service, that as a career for women, homemaking offers greater opportunity for leisure, for growth of mind and spirit, for exercise of the body, than any other occupation.

I believe that one who has the intelligence to keep her own house in order is wise enough to be a force in any community.

It is my desire to be one of the countless women of the world to make life sweeter and better because I live and do my work well. By Grace Noll Crowell.

Miss Abbott: "Carroll, what are you looking for?"

Carroll Brough: "Nuthin!"

Miss Abbott: "Well, you'll find it in the jar where the cookies were."

Miss Plummer: "Did you notice how my fiddle music filled the assembly hall?"

Mr. Davidson: "Indeed I did. All the students left to make room for it."

Jean Owens: "Where do the fleas go in winter:"

Levin Gosney: "Search me."

Jean O.: "No, thanks, I just wanted to know."

Mr. Arthur says: "A smart girl is one who can make her paint taste good as well as look good."

Doctor: "I will examine you for twenty-five dollars."

Douglas Coker: "Good! If you find it, I'll give you half."

Mrs. Hall: "My, you look happy, T. G. What has happened to cause you to smile so?"

T. G.: "I got a 100 in school today."

Mrs. Hall: "That's nice. What did you get the 100 in?"

T. G.: "50 in History; 30 in English, and 20 in Math."

Edna Lois: "Oh, I keep thinking that it is Tuesday night."

Miss Campbell: "John Howard, have you done any of your outside reading?"

John Howard Burt: "No ma'am, it's been too cold."

Betty Cherry: "What would be worse than a man without a country?"

Dorothy Jo Douglas: "A country without a man."

Miller N.: "Just to think I promised my mother that I would never be a football player."

Wayne McL.: "Well, you certainly kept your promise!"

Cop: "Hey there, don't jam up traffic! Use your noodle!"

Melba Campbell: "I didn't know the car had one."

R. C. Malone: "Sweets to the sweet!"

Mary Earle A.: "Oh, thank you; may I pass you the nuts?"

RIVER ROAD . . . BY BRUNO LORE

DOWN MEMORY LANE

"Here is your book of memories—so fresh and bright that they are hardly memories yet—but time is working at them." ☆ Mirrored in these pages are people and places you hold dear—here pictures and story recapture those thrilling events of the gridiron and gymnasium—those enthusiastic social gatherings—bonfires—pep rallies—dances. ☆ The work of a splendid staff is finished—in your hands is the result of a year's hard endeavor—but a labor of love at that. ☆ May it meet with your enthusiastic approval and may you enjoy it as much as Stafford's service-men and craftsmen have enjoyed our association with your editorial and business staffs. ☆ As the years roll by and, "like great black oxen trod the world," may this book rekindle some of the joys you have known—when you seek the pleasures of remembering.
